

MOVING ON!

Academic Museums and Galleries in the New Millennium

Presented by the Association of College and University Museums and Galleries, an AAM affiliated, and hosted by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Museum, Cambridge, MA

Travel through three energizing MIT sites with a program designed to face new expectations. Bring your walking shoes and take the short rail journey from the AAM conference site to a day of multi-disciplinary peer presentations and discussions that will renew your commitment to the future. Keynote speaker is Dr. William Mitchell, Professor of Architecture and Media Arts and Science, MIT.

For more information, check the ACUMG website (www.acumg.org) or contact Catherine Sullivan, conference chair (CSullivan@cshchico.edu).
